

PROSPECTS FAVOR CROP THIS YEAR

GROWERS AND DEALERS ARE SANGUINE OVER CONDITIONS FOR 1911 TOBACCO CROP.

ACREAGE TO BE INCREASED

Reports to This Effect Come From Reliable Sources—Other News in Local Tobacco Market.

With the coming of the present warm days tobacco stock as regards the crop for the present season, has taken a material boost and prospects favor a large acreage of good tobacco. Many of the growers who early in the spring were in doubt as to whether they would raise any of the leaf this season have recently changed their minds and it is generally thought that the number of acres set out this year will exceed that of 1910 by a good margin.

Word to this effect comes from the dealers and growers, both those who raise the crop and those who are contracting for its production. Favorable weather conditions are perhaps the most important reason for this indication, as well as the opinion that prices will be at least normal.

Practically all the seed has been sown at the present time and with the warm sunshine it will be only the matter of a few days before the plants will be growing nicely. In fact, it is reported that in some localities the young plants have already shown their first leaves and are growing as fast as can be expected. It is said that many of the growers around Hordland have plants up and in the northern part of Rock county some growers are reported to have good stands for the beds of plants.

With the plants on the way it is important that the beds be kept clean and free from weeds as these not only crowd out the young tobacco plants, but also sap the ground of water and nourishment. It is also recommended by some that the bed be gently raked over after the plants have fairly started their growth, especially if the ground is hard. However, this may not be necessary where canvas is used.

Most of the growers will plow their tobacco land early this season, and now a few have already begun work at this. If this is done early and frequent harrowing is done, it will tend to keep the ground moist and in excellent shape for transplanting later in the spring. The ground at present is in fine condition for working and it is therefore a good plan to take advantage of the fact as later plowing may be difficult and the ground lumpy, as was the case with many last year.

"Faking everything" into consideration this season promises to be a busy one for the grower and the dealer will undoubtedly be filled to their full capacity this fall. This will be a condition greeted favorably by growers and dealers alike.

Work on the 1910 crop at the local warehouses is being rushed at present and it is very probable that only two or three will be running very shortly. Sorting at the Hawkins and Schwartz warehouses will soon be completed, and the dealers putting up larger packages will probably be at work for a month or more. Practically none of the crop which was weighed up in the sheds by the American Tobacco company early in March has been delivered yet and with the amount on the floors there will be work enough to keep a full force going till the first of June.

P. S. Mahoney will also have a full force of sorters for a like period. He also has a force busy putting the leaf in the sweat rooms. He will receive several more carloads of the Pennsylvania crop within a few days, which is also being bulked in the sweat rooms and kept at a temperature of 120 degrees Fahrenheit.

There has been a slight movement in old lots the past week but not more than the normal amount. T. E. Welsh has shipped out three carloads of the 1909 crop and several cars of the '10 have also been disposed of, including 50 or 60 cases for export shipped by P. S. Mahoney. H. T. Keller has also purchased several carloads of the 1910 packing of George Decker and will ship out the same within a short time.

SOFT LIGHTS AND FESTIVE DANCERS IN SOCIETY EVENT

Assembly Hall Scene of Fairy Transformation at Brilliant Dancing Party Last Evening.

To the strains of the music of the peerless Krell, and amid shaded and varicolored lights and soft tinted footlights that transformed Assembly hall into a veritable fairy land of beauty, Janesville society danced last evening on the occasion of a most brilliant ball at which Messrs. and Mesdames F. E. Lewis, J. L. Wilcox, H. H. Bliss, George E. King and Miss Ada Lewis were the hosts and hostesses. Fully three hundred matrons, maidens and men filled the tastefully decorated ball room and inspired by the excellent music danced until the hour of three this morning.

The decorative scheme was fashioned to represent aerionautics, the idea being carried out with six green tinted spheres representing balloons, in which were concealed electric lights. Footlights of white radiated from these in graceful lines to the side walls, which, with realistic artificial chrysanthemums and a myriad of pink clustered leaves formed a vaulted overhead bower, the effect of which was most charming.

Miniature incandescent lights and bunches of roses and southern huckleberry sprays formed the wall decoration, the several distinct colors and hangings uniting to transform the hall into a scene of wondrous beauty. The orchestra was stationed behind a screen of palms and greens on the platform at the farther end of the ball room.

The beauties of the decorations were enhanced a hundred fold by the presence of the exquisitely gownned throng of ladies, who, swirling to the soft strains of the dreamy waltz, created an effect long to be remembered. The time passed all too quickly from the time of passing the reception line of the cordial hosts and hostesses to the last note of the "Home Sweet Home," and the gay dancers left with a feeling of regret that one of the pleasantest social events of Janesville should have drawn to a close.

Delicious short punch was served at a table in one corner of the hall and in an adjoining room in which the beauties of the scheme of decoration had been carried out and a delightful supper was served at midnight. Among those present from out of town were: Miss Dorothy Whitehead of Hyde Park, Ill.; Miss Mable Walker, Racine; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doty, Chicago; Mrs. Charles Quirk, Milwaukee; and Messrs. John Willmar, New York; Kenneth Joffe and Grant Hyde, Heloit college, and Kenneth Halvorsen, Whitewater.

FINE PROGRAM WAS GIVEN BY PUPILS

Morning Exercises At the High School Today Were of High Order.

Morning exercises at the local high school were this morning of a very high order. The program consisted of the two phases of entertainment which are especially appreciated by the student body, namely: music and public speaking.

The program consisted of three numbers all of which were rendered exceptionally well. The first two numbers were contributed by members of the Laurean Literary society and the third by a member of the Forum literary society.

The program was opened with a beautiful violin and piano duet, rendered by Florence Crissey and Sara Garbutt. Following this, Margaret Doty gave the declamation with which she will represent the school in the district contest at Heloit, this coming Friday evening. The ability which she displayed in the rendition of the declamation, spoke well for Janesville's chances in the coming contest.

After the declamation, Filmer Cuckow delivered the oration with which he will represent the local high in the contest at Heloit, this week. Cuckow exhibited a wide range of voice accompanied with great volume which was over at his command.

Judging from this rehearsal the student body and the faculty as a whole, feel confident of the ability of their representatives to put it over the other contestants and to even win for Janesville more fame than last year's team succeeded in doing.

The dance which followed was participated in by ninety couples and proved an exceedingly pleasant event, both socially and financially. Among those present from abroad were Mrs. W. T. Tallman, Mr. W. D. Tallman and Walter Arlek of Janesville; Earl Langworthy and Miss Belle Jones of Madison.

Met With Accident.
Walking leisurely from school toward his home yesterday afternoon Richard the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Leary, met with a strange and somewhat painful accident. Passing along the sidewalk and bearing a basket which was being moved on rollers, a portion of the structure got in contact with a limb of a tree, tearing it off and in falling struck the little boy on the side of his head and inflicted a wound that required four stitches in order to undergo its proper course of treatment. The injury is not considered serious and the little fellow is doing nicely.

AN OFFICE CASE

I just extracted a tooth for a party who came to me with great reluctance because of his former painful experience with dentists.

He was scared white.

When I showed him the tooth he was almost unable to believe that I really had gotten it out of his mouth, and insisted that I accept a dollar for the job.

He was filled with gratitude.

People don't always press me to accept double pay this way, but I really find it delightful to do business, so I usually do my patients thank me for saving them the usual agony of the dental chair.

HALF THE SUM IS ALREADY RAISED

NEARLY TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS SUBSCRIBED FOR THE PURCHASE OF THE FAIR GROUNDS.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM SHOWN

Business Men Generally Like Plan to Make the Grounds into a Public Recreation and Amusement Park.

With nearly ten thousand dollars worth of stock already subscribed in two days work, the committee which has in charge the work of raising funds for the purchase and remodeling of the fair grounds into a public amusement and recreation park, now feel assured of the success of their enterprise.

Mayor John C. Nichols, who has been one of the most enthusiastic workers in the affair stated this morning that the park was an assured thing, he said: "We found everywhere the warmest kind of support for the project. The spirit of booming and boosting Janesville is in the air and the West side of the river, on which I worked, turned in over seven thousand dollars worth of stock subscriptions in two days."

"The plan at present is to make alterations at once on the grounds when we take possession. We will bank the turns of the mile track and make it into a first class auto and motorcycle course. We can hold motorcycle races and automobile races, joining one of the many elements that are being organized throughout the country."

"We also plan to construct a half mile track inside the mile for matinee races and training purposes. It should be a fast track as the soil is just right for such purposes. With these two tracks we can hold any kind of a race meet or combination of meets during the summer months. Perhaps we can hold a spring and fall harness meet if the proper arrangements can be made."

"The grandstand diamond is being laid out already and will be a fine one. The grand stand will be remodeled and improved and made larger if needed. The fence around the grounds rebuilt and the stables rebuilt or torn down and new ones constructed. The ball park is already spoken of for the Janesville team of which Walter Brown is manager for the summer months."

"The grounds themselves will be beautified by trees and shrubs and will make an ideal spot for a walk and for spectators at the games or races. Of course all this will take some time to complete but from present indications we can close the deal and start repairs and reconstruction at once."

Charles Putnam, who with F. S. Sheldon visited the east side of the river yesterday and today, reports that he finds the sentiment about the same as described by Mr. Nichols. He said: "Everyone realizes that Janesville needs just such a park and this is the first time we have had the proposition in such shape that we could handle it right. We have an option on the property from the Hotel Realty company which owns it and will be able to close the deal in a few days."

"While I do not anticipate we can hold a county fair there this fall we will be able to have everything ready for auto races this summer and a fall track meet besides the baseball games during the summer months. As soon as the deal is closed the work of remodeling will begin. The work on constructing the base ball diamond is already under way and the plans for other improvements are being discussed."

"As soon as the stock is all subscribed we will formally organize a stock holding company. This we can incorporate under the state laws and elect our officers. This may take some time but meanwhile we will be getting everything into shape. The citizens generally appreciate what we are trying to do but we still lack considerable money and trust that we will find a ready response to our sale of stock."

The two committees will continue their work for several days longer and it is expected that sufficient money will be raised to close the deal at once so there will be no delay in the renovation of the grounds and fitting them up for the summer.

CAR HITS WAGON; MAN IS INJURED

CHARLES MCKEWAN SUSTAINS SEVERE INJURIES WHEN STREET CAR HITS HIS WAGON.

TRIED TO CROSS TRACKS

Three Ribs Broken and Possible Internal Injuries Result of Collision At Corner of Main and Racine Streets.

Charles McKewan, a farmer, aged fifty-two, who resides about three miles east of this city, sustained several broken ribs and possible internal injuries of a serious nature, when his wagon was struck by a car of the street railway company at the corner of S. Main and Racine streets, about 8:20 this morning.

McKewan was returning from the Shortell plant, where he had delivered milk early this morning and in going south on Main street was attempting to turn east onto Racine street when the collision occurred with the street car which was going in the same direction.

There were no eye witnesses to the accident and it is not known definitely how it happened. The wagon was struck in the rear end of the box and the impact threw this part of the vehicle to the ground, cutting loose the team which ran south on Main street. They were caught in the south part of town by Joe Wines and returned by him to the scene of the accident. Both horses were badly cut about the legs and heads.

When bystanders reached the spot, McKewan was managed to get to his feet and was endeavoring to start after the horses. He was thrown in under the fender of the car by the collision and it is probably that in being dragged along the pavement he sustained the injuries to his ribs.

The accident occurred in front of the residence of Dr. Mann, who was fortunately home at that time and who took charge of the injured man. With the assistance of the bystanders McKewan was taken to the home of his cousin, Frank McKewan, a few blocks east on Racine street, where he is being cared for.

An examination revealed several broken ribs and in the opinion of Dr. Mann there was to be traces of a puncture of the lung in which case serious results may follow.

No one could be found who saw the accident and it is not known how it happened. It is said by some that the motorman, King, rang his bell continuously before he reached the wagon and that McKewan did hear it. Others say that they did not hear the bell ring at all and that it was a case of the motorman trying to get past before the wagon turned across the tracks.

Mr. McKewan had driven into town early this morning to deliver milk at the Shortell Company, and after leaving there had loaded his wagon with several bags of grain. It was on his way home that the accident occurred. His cousin at whose home he is being cared for was working on the foundation of a house about two hundred feet from the scene of the collision and he with several others rushed to the assistance of the man.

When the wagon box was thrown to the ground, McKewan was hurled in front of the car and when it stopped he was caught in the fender and had been dragged along the pavement.

McKewan is unmarried and resides on the old Danfield farm about two and one-half miles from here on the cutoff road between the Emerald Grove road and the city. At present there has been no change noticed in his condition and he seems to be resting as quietly as possible at the home of his cousin.

FOUND JEWELRY IN STALL IN A BARN

Went to Notify a Friend and in Meantime Box Containing It Disappeared.

When Fred Bartell, who is employed by the Janesville Electric company, put his horse up for the night, Wednesday evening, in the stable behind the Leonard office, he noticed a cardboard box lying in a vacant stall partially covered by hay. Upon investigation he found it contained a large quantity of cheap jewelry, stick pins, chains, lockets and so forth. Covering it up he locked the barn and about nine o'clock returned to the stable to secure the box, accompanied by a friend, only to find it gone. The person who had stored it there evidently entered the barn from the rear, over the river, where a large window was opened, and made his exit by the same route. Chief of Police Appleby was not notified of the discovery until today and is now making a thorough investigation of the matter.

HEARING TODAY IN BARLASS ESTATE

Last of Controversy Which Has Gone to the Supreme Court Before Judge Sale Today.

For the purpose of final settlement, the rights of John Barlass to the deed of the property of the late Thomas Barlass are being heard in Judge Sale's court this afternoon. The case of the disposal of this property has been in the courts for the past three years and has been to the supreme court.

Thomas Barlass died intestate and following his death, David Barlass, one of the sons, was appointed administrator by Judge Sale. The right of this son to the administration was disputed by another son, John, who maintained that it was wrong as he holds a deed to the property of his father made out to him prior to his death.

The appointment of David as administrator was taken into the circuit court by John Barlass and here it was reversed by Judge Grimm. From here it was taken to the supreme court where just recently the decision of Judge Sale was upheld. The hearing today is to determine the validity of the claims of John Barlass as the holder of the deed to the property to which David was appointed administrator.

SEEKS TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DAMAGES

J. H. Monahan Suing Fairbanks-Morse Company in Circuit Court For Alleged Injuries—Verdict Yesterday.

Before Judge Grimm this afternoon is being tried the case of James H. Monahan against the Fairbanks-Morse Company of Beloit, in which the claim for seeks damages to the extent of $25,000 for injuries received while in the employ of that firm. On November 16, 1909, while discharging his duties as helper in the machine shop, Monahan became entangled in a net screw on one of the shafts. He was whirled around several times and was picked up unconscious, receiving injuries which are alleged to have disabled him permanently. All afternoon was taken up with the giving of testimony and it is thought that the case will occupy the remainder of the week. Jeffries, Mead, Costello and Avery are handling the case for the plaintiff and J. R. Doe of Milwaukee, is for the defense.

In the case of W. H. Francis against Peter L. Hammann, involving a controversy over partnership relations, Judge Grimm yesterday ordered the jury to return a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. After the completion of the present case the jury cases for the special term will have been finished and the remainder of the juryman have already been dismissed.

POLICE LOOKING FOR RUNAWAY BOY

Thomas F. Courtney, Sixteen Years Old, Disappeared Yesterday Morning From Home On South Pearl Street.

Thomas F. Courtney, sixteen year old son of Dennis J. Courtney, ran away from his home on South Pearl street yesterday morning and has not been heard from since. The young man left home at half past six o'clock yesterday morning and his parents are greatly worried over his failure to return. The police department was notified and efforts are being made to locate the young man. No reason for his sudden departure can be given, as he had had no trouble with his parents or with anyone else, as far as is known. He is about five feet five inches in height, of slim build, with blue eyes and light brown hair. At the time he left home young Courtney wore a black cap, black suit shirt, gray coat, blue overalls and brown trousers. It is not known whether he had any money with him to enable him to travel with. Police of nearby towns have been notified to look for him and send him back home.

TONSILS BRING ON RHEUMATISM.

Throat Specialist Declares Their Removal Will Cure the Disease.

Baltimore, Md., April 27.—Before a scientific meeting of the Medical and Chirurgical faculty Dr. H. W. Peterman, one of the leading authorities on the throat in the United States, declared that rheumatism was not due to infection or exposure, but was caused by tonsils. He stated that the tonsils of a child were necessary before it reached the age of six years. After a person reaches the age of twenty-one years, however, the tonsils should have disappeared. If they have not, they will eventually become diseased and the germ of rheumatism will enter the system through them. If the tonsils are removed the rheumatism will disappear in nine cases out of every ten, where the disease has not been seated long enough to destroy the tissues.

Charles Walters has sold his farm to Mrs. Van Hise. She will take possession the first of next March. F. H. Mosher attended the funeral of the late M. A. Hayer of the town of Rock Thursday.

For the Attention of Automobile Owners

We've Reduced the Price of Vulcanizing Punctures By Steam From 50c to 25c

To keep this low price in effect it is necessary that we have at least a hundred of such jobs each week or the price goes back to 50c. Unless the volume of business is large enough to warrant it we cannot do the work for 25c consistently, so we depend upon you auto owners to keep the price down by bringing your punctures here to be vulcanized instead of taking chances with a cold patch.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

"YES, it is too bad she should have had to miss the luncheon, but really I can't help thinking she is apt to be a hypochondriac, to think too much about herself and give in to her nerves too much." The critter was an unfortunate little woman born with a delicate, sickly body which she had never been able to take proper care of. A message had just come from her that she had been suddenly taken with one of the terrible sick headaches to which she was subject, and would not be able to attend the luncheon at which we were gathered. The critic was a large robust young woman who has scarcely ever known a sick day.

She was born of healthy parents, was a perfectly healthy child and has been healthy ever since. She says she hasn't had the doctor for fifteen years, and hasn't laid a day since she had the measles.

She is a splendid specimen of perfectly healthy womanhood.

She is also, I think, a splendid object lesson of the value of being ill occasionally.

For the brilliant, healthy quality of her is like nothing so much as a diamond, beautiful and sparkling but hard—oh, so hard.

For criticism of the little woman is a sample of her instinctive attitude towards all pain and sickness and suffering.

She simply doesn't understand. Well, how should she? Any more than a man born blind should understand light?

Now, I happen to know that this woman often wonders why men do not like her better, and why she has almost no close friends among women. She is rather fine looking and has had much admiration, but I doubt if she has ever had a lover.

It seems strange to her. It doesn't to me. Why should she?

Would one seek to warm one's hands at a diamond? Sometimes I wonder—suppose this woman should be quite ill for a month or so, really suffer, really know the torture of unendurable pain, the blessed exquisite sensation of the cessation of pain, (I have often felt like parodying the vulgar but clever, "Only a king should have the itch; it's such a luxury to scratch," with "Only a king should suffer pain; it's such a luxury to have it come"), could undergo the agony of utter weakness and the heart's springtime of gradually returning strength, might she not come back to us a different woman, and who could awaken love, where formerly she could command only admiration.

Surely you know some variety of the diamond lady. Perhaps several of her.

And aren't you convinced whenever you get close enough to her to feel the hardness underneath the brilliance, the lack of warmth despite the sparkle, that much as we dread and fear and hate it, perhaps we all do need pain occasionally to make us understand, to make us lovable; in short, to make us human?

YOUR EXAMPLE TO OTHERS.

You can't control others. You can't very well dictate the actions of others, but you can influence their lives. That is just what each of us does— influences the lives of others about us.

By our example we impress our ideas and our deductions of life upon others. Not a single man, woman or child can come into the circle of our lives without in some way being influenced by us. Particularly is this true of the young.

Perhaps, without an idea on our part, some one is copying our characteristics into their own lives. We cannot know this unless, perchance, we are some day through sheer accident brought face to face with the fact. And this is what makes it so important that we should exercise care in our daily lives.

It may be the thing we do today because we cannot resist temptation that will reach out at some future day to guide us when we find its result in the life of some one near and dear to us. It may be that because of something careless we do today the destiny of someone else in the future may be warped.

We were not placed in this world, creatures without responsibilities. We were put here with certain obligations and one of them was not to be the stumbling blocks of others less strong of character than ourselves.

A man of good example is of tremendous force in the world and his influence is all in the right direction. A woman of good example is a greater upholder of peace and beauty than she can ever know. And there is practically no limit to the good a man or woman of the right sort may do.

Most of us form our lives by imitation. The resolution of a high-minded and thoroughly clean grandparent has frequently had a potent influence upon the development of character in a boy or girl that left it finally proportioned in its maturity.

The good example of a square-dealing, clean-living father has often set the character of a boy on such a high plane that he has never had a desire to live in any other way.

Now this example is not the thing we put on when we go to church. It is the fixed habit of every day wear—the habit that gives us free rein to be human beings at any and all times. The man who has one set of manners and actions for his home and another for church or company isn't a good example anywhere for he is a hypocrite and a hypocrite is a being with influence or any other worthy attribute.

It is the things that we do unconsciously when our minds are off the rest of the world and concentrated on the thing we are doing that shows our true character and makes us a potent force for either good or bad. We can't get away from the fact that we have to be an influence of some sort. Then why not be a good one?

To Women Readers

But three days more remain before the present menu contest will end. In the meantime additional recipes will be published daily so that all may have an opportunity for diversity in preparing for their week's meals.

It takes considerable planning to arrange menus for twenty-one meals so as to give a diversity of dishes at the various meals. Many families dine at noon, many at night. This might add some confusion but it is best to have the meals suited for the noon day meal being the dinner.

Care should be taken to have the menus written on one side of the paper only, the three meals or the one day on the same sheet if possible. The dates the recipes were appeared in the Gazette should also be included in the day's list so they can be easily verified by the judges.

Owing to the increased interest in the contest it has been decided to offer ten additional prizes for the menus that are the next best to the four winners of the larger prizes. These "Silver" prizes are most wonderful things and work transformations that all the rubbing with polish on tarnished silver could never accomplish in but a few seconds.

Ten of these prizes will be awarded to the ten contestants whose menus are considered in the order of five, six, seven and so forth up to fourteen. All menus must be in the Gazette office by Saturday, May 6th, the extra week being given to prepare them in after the last recipes are published.

Monday, April 24th will be the last day that any recipes will be published in the paper that can be used, but the "Kitchen Cabinet" with recipes and bits of advice to housewives will continue to be a feature of the Woman's Page.

First prize—Culoric Fireless Cook-stove.

Second prize—$5.00 in gold.

Third prize—$3.00.

Fourth prize—$2.00.

For the next ten best lists a "Silver" medal to each.

The contest closes on Monday next, April 30, and the completed lists of menus must be received in the Gazette office by Saturday morning, May 6th.

In making up your lists be sure and state on what days the recipes used were published in the Gazette. Keep in mind that the idea of this contest is to secure a series of menus that can be used by a family for every day use, and that the feature of utilization of odds and ends to keep down expenses will count in deciding the winners.

GRANT'S BIRTHDAY.

April 27.—This is the birthday of Ulysses S. Grant, tanner, soldier, president. And the funny part of it is that his name was not Ulysses S. at all. As a matter of fact he was christened Hiram Ulysses by the process of putting a number of names in a hat and the poor child having to stand for the result. As a lad he worked and was just an ordinary country boy with a decided love for horseflesh and a good reputation as a driver. At school he was a good student, and his father began to cast about for a vocation for the young man. He decided to send his son to West Point, and on leaving his trunk bore the initials "H. U. G." Fearing that his schoolmates might use the letters for a nickname, he had them changed to "U. H. G." and so signed the registry. But that did not hold as the congressman who had secured his commission had entered him as Ulysses S. Grant, and that was the name that stuck all through the war, all his life, that was so full of honor and glory.

The KITCHEN CABINET

THE LITTLE AND THE GREAT. And lives contentedly between. The little and the great, Nor plagues that haunt the rich man's door. Enlivening all his state."

Fillings for Cakes.

The different combinations that are used for cake fillings are legion. Fruits, nuts and frostings, with cooked mixtures of many kinds give a sufficient variety to satisfy the ordinary taste.

One of the nicest of these fillings is made by adding chopped nuts and raisins to a boiled frosting. A few figs and bits of dates added to a boiled frosting makes a change which is very good.

An especially rich and delicious filling is made by cooking together one cupful of cream and a cupful of brown sugar, adding a cup of hickory nuts at the last, stirring until smooth. Spread between the layers of and cover the top with the filling.

A good filling, nice for a simple cake for children is the cooked cream filling made by adding a little flour and butter to a custard mixture of one egg and a cupful of milk, flavor as desired, but add more sugar than for an ordinary custard.

A delicious caramel icing for a cake is made with one and three-fourths cups of brown sugar, one-half cup of milk and a tablespoonful of butter, melt the butter and sugar, stirring constantly over hot water, then boil all together over a flame until a drop on a cold plate will not stick to the finger. Spread quickly before it hardens, adding the vanilla at the last.

When frosting seems too hard to add to a cake or gets rough before it is well covered, add a teaspoonful of hot water to it, stirring it in well.

Chocolate fillings are always popular for cakes, as most people are fond of chocolate. Make a filling of two cupfuls of sugar, one-half cup of milk, two ounces of chocolate and a tablespoonful of butter. Melt in a dish then stir constantly over the heat.

When cool enough to spread add a teaspoonful of vanilla. To test this try on a cool dish as for the caramel filling.

Nellie Maxwell.

The Wassagussat Chowder.

This is an old-fashioned dish; it's good. Take a large fish, say cod, had-dock or halibut, and cut in slices after having scaled and cleaned it—the sure not to put any bone in. Cut some slices of raw salt pork, placing them in the bottom of your iron kettle. When partly fried put on top of the pork a layer of fish, then a layer of onions and a layer of potatoes, both sliced quite thin, add to each layer a little salt and pepper, cover with milk. Let it boil three-quarters of an hour.

Russian Tea.

Put two teaspoons of tea into a fine strainer, pour half cup of boiling water through to cleanse the grounds, then turn the grounds into the scalded teapot. Pour on one pint of freshly boiling water. Keep hot five minutes. Put two cubes of sugar and one slice of lemon into the tumbler, half filled with broken ice. Pour on the tea and serve. Never let the tea leaves remain in the tea. If desired, pour it from the grounds as soon as steeped.

Salmon Draft.

One can salmon, pour off oil and pick out bones, one cup stale bread crumbs, two eggs beaten, one tablespoon butter, salt to taste, a little lemon juice. Mix well together, put in a mold or small granite pan, steam one hour, turn out on pretty dish and garnish with parsley or hard-boiled eggs cut in rings. Make a drawn butter gravy with lemon juice and pour over salmon.

Parisian Fruit Macedoine.

Mix together strawberries, stoned cherries, orange slices, white grapes, or slices of pear, red raspberries and green almonds, shredded. Add one or two tablespoonfuls of pineapple juice to the syrup from maraschino cherries and pour over the fruit. Serve very cold.

Quick Pudding.

Soak and split some crackers; lay the surface over with raisins and eggs; put the halves together, the them in a bag, and boil 15 minutes in milk and water; make a rich foam sauce.

Corned Beef Hash.

Use one part of meat to two of potatoes using one-fourth part fat meat. Chop very fine, rejecting every bit of bone, gristle and skin. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Put a little hot water or beef stock in the bottom of a spider, add a tablespoon of butter, and as soon as melted turn into the hash. Simmer slowly until it has absorbed the water and formed a soft brown crust. Do not let it get too dry, but do not stir. Fold like an omelet.

or, if preferred, serve in a round dish, crust upturned.

Variations in hash are roast beef instead of corned, cooked without a crust mounded in a dish and crowned with poached eggs, served on small squares of toast, or with bacon. It may be seasoned with onions or varied by the addition of fried onions, chopped green or red peppers, chopped celery or parsley. It may be made into balls, covered with egg and fine bread crumbs and fried in deep fat, or heated with milk or cream in place of water.

Fish Chowder.

Bass and cod are the best fish for chowder, but other fish can be used. Clean the fish and cut in slices. Fry a few slices of fat salt pork, then take up and chop. Into the pork fat put a layer of the fish several bits of the fried pork, a few slices of onion, and salt and pepper to season. Add also crackers that have been soaked in cold water, or some of the ordinary crackers broken in small pieces. Repeat the layers of fish, pork and crackers until all the fish is used. Then turn in enough cold water to generously cover the whole and simmer for twenty-five minutes to half an hour. Thicken the gravy with a little blended flour and water, add butter and season, if you wish, with a large spoonful catsup.

Spinach Salad.

Chop cold boiled spinach fine, season well with salt, pepper and a little nutmeg and mold in small cups. When cold and formed turn out on lettuce leaves, and garnish with hard-boiled eggs sliced or the yolks of hard-boiled eggs run through a ricer. Serve with mayonnaise. Strips of Spanish red peppers may be used for garnishing in place of the eggs. The nutmeg can be omitted if distasteful, but most people find it an attractive addition.

Courtbullion.

First, put three tablespoonfuls of butter in a pan; then cut in one onion very fine, next one teaspoonful of flour and brown, not too brown, but a yellow brown; then add tomatoes (if canned, use one-third of a can; if not use two or three whole ones); cut very fine and add about two cups water, a little parsley and a pinch of thyme, a little garlic mashed very fine, cayenne pepper and salt to taste. When well cooked, add one and one-half pounds halibut or red snapper, well salted, and cook about 20 minutes. A little lemon juice added just before serving improves the dish, as does fried bread cut in dice. This is a dish that is a great favorite in some parts of the South, where it is made very peppery.

Bread and Butter Pudding.

Butter thin slices of bread sufficient to two-thirds fill a two-quart pudding dish. Butter the dish thickly with cold butter and put in a layer of bread; sprinkle over it a little cinnamon and grated nutmeg and add a generous layer of raisins, and so on until the bread is used. Cover with milk and let it stand over night or several hours. Then drain off the milk which the bread has not absorbed and add to it four eggs, well beaten, three-quarters of a cup of sugar, and half a teaspoonful of salt. Pour this into the dish, press the bread down several times, then add enough more milk to fill nearly to the top of the dish. Bake in a moderate oven three hours, cover it at first, but do not stir.

Excellent Buns.

Dissolve one-half cake of compressed yeast in two cups of milk boiled and cooled; add one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar, and flour to make a stiff batter. Let rise overnight. In the morning add one cup sugar, one-half cup melted or softened butter and flour to make it stiff enough to knead. Let rise again until light, then shape into small biscuits and let rise again. Bake in a hot oven until brown, then rub over top with milk and sugar and let stand in oven a few minutes longer. This makes two dozen.

Cabbage With Rice.

Boil a head of cabbage until tender, drain and cut out the heart and center, fill in the opening with a cup of hot boiled rice that has been highly seasoned with pepper, salt and butter, and pour over all a cream sauce. This makes an excellent cold weather dish when the meat course is light.

Scrapple.

One and one-half pounds of beef and one-half pound of pork; boil them together and season with salt, pepper, and sage; drain and chop fine. Then add to the liquor corn meal, as you would for mush; add seasoned meat, mold, slice, and fry.

That Famous Unknown.

L. E. Ralston lost a valuable umbrella on a St. Clair street car the other day. In his advertisement in the Leader asking for the return of the umbrella, Mr. Ralston said: "Will the man for whom Diogenes made his famous search kindly bring back my umbrella and receive his reward."—Cleveland Leader.

In Love

By Byron Williams

When Phoebus sinks beneath the sea, And vesper twilight blends above, 'Tis then that Venus smiles forth To rule the rosy land of love! To weave a magic spell of bliss—The seashore, a lover's kiss!

Ah, Fabian, defer no more! The charm of love is in the air And dewy eyes like sparkling here In diamond hues beyond compare—Oh, yield to Eros ere the light Of faded love grows dim and drear!

Aurora's car stands idle now And Phoebus slumbers in the sky. The night wind, sighing through the wood, Is chanting twilight's lullaby—Now Cupid is the welcome king That rules the fate of everything!

Come, yield unto the hour of night When moonlight ripples on the crest And let us drift in blighted bliss Upon the glint of Lethe's breast! Oh, in the waning hour of light, Say yes, my love—say yes, tonight!

HOW TO MAKE MOST OF CORNMEAL.

Corn meal porridge and milk is a nourishing and altogether a wholesome food, if the liability to swallow it without much mastication be avoided, especially when there is a tendency to constipation. The porridge should be made thick, boiled for 10 minutes in a double boiler and finished by four or five hours in the fireless cooker, when it should be solid, including mastication more than thin wheat preparations. Cornmeal can be ground from the cob on a common grater, but care should be taken not to grind so close as to include pieces of the cob. A fresh, coarser, more wholesome meal can be made in this way, which if cooked long and slowly and thoroughly masticated, is preferable to any other cereal preparation.

FOR FRONT OF SHIRTWAIST, COLLAR AND CUFF.

A combination of cross-stitch and embroidery is very effective on a shirtwaist. It should be used on either side of the box-plot in front, and on collar and cuffs. A band may also be worked down the center of the back if desired. The embroidery is done in the solid satin stitch and the rest of the design in the cross-stitch. The design may be reproduced to any length desired. Colored mercerized cotton No. 19 will be suitable for this pattern.

COPYRIGHT, 1910, BY WASHBURN-CROSBY CO. MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

HAVE ANNOUNCED LIST OF PRIZES

TO BE GIVEN BY TWILIGHT CLUB IN HOME IMPROVEMENT COMPETITION FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

PLANS ARE NOW COMPLETE

List of Thirty-five Prizes Given for General Improvement of Premises During Coming Four Months.

Arrangements are now complete for the school children home improvement competition which has been planned by the Twilight club and will be carried out with the assistance of the merchants and citizens of the city. The committee of the Twilight club, composed of Rev. J. C. Hagen, chairman, George S. Parker and Fred Capelle, which have the matter in charge, have arranged a list of prizes to be awarded and have outlined the terms and time of the contest.

There will be thirty-five prizes awarded in all, seven in each ward. The prizes will be the same in each ward and the division thus made will give a much broader field of competition than if the entire city were included. The list of seven prizes to be awarded are as follows:

First prize, $7.00 in cash; second, $5.00 in cash; third, $3.00 article; fourth, a $3.00 article; fifth, 20 ice cream sodas; sixth, a $1.00 deposit in bank; seventh, 50 cent box of candy. The prizes will be awarded for the best improvement in the home and premises during the next four months of this year—May, June, July and August. Stress is made on the fact that the prizes will not be given for the best looking place, but for the most improvement, so that the poorest looking place at present will really have the greatest chance than the home which is at present well improved and kept up.

Credit will be given for the planting of vines, shrubbery and trees, and other plants and flowers. The contest also includes the cleaning of the front and back yards, care of the lawn and the street in front of the place and also any improvement in the appearance of the house and general aspect of the buildings and surroundings.

All school children who desire to enter the contest will be provided with cards which they will sign and at that time the committee will look at the place until they pass finally on it at September 1st. The decision of the committee will be final and the matter of the award will be taken into consideration to decide fairly on the relative merits of the improvements made.

The plans of the committee will be announced to the children in the various schools at an early date and the teachers will be supplied with cards to be distributed to the pupils. A more exact explanation of the manner of application and requirements will be published at an early date.

The entire scheme has been mapped out with extreme care on the part of the committee and it is a plan which bids fair to be most successful for the beautifying of the homes of this city. Janesville has a record of being one of the most beautiful cities in the state but there are many blemishes which can be wiped out and the recultivating of the school children in the work will insure more lasting benefits than merely those chances which will be made this season. Interest is keen in the project and a large number of entrants is expected.

Case of Planting the Lily. A scientist from the alfalfa fields of the west announces the discovery of a substitute for asparagus. Why under the sun should anybody crave a substitute for asparagus?—Providence Journal.

Obviously you want to exert all your energies upon the same people long enough to give them an opportunity to consider your arguments, long enough to prove to them the facts you state.

So—First—get all the good you can out of one paper before you go into a second.

True, it may not always be easy to find the best paper. But if you will look about you, investigate closely, see where other advertisers are spending the bulk of their money; if you will inquire closely as to the results obtained; if you will look into the circulation of the paper; if you will look about you and see which paper is most willing to give its circulation publicity—you will have no trouble in finding the best paper for your advertising.

100 Readers for a penny

Taking the average advertising rate of The Gazette as a basis to consider the worth and cost of advertising, you get the following results:

A space two columns wide and equally as long, in other words, a two-column square, costs $3.00. It reaches over 5000 homes, and that means 35 homes for every penny it cost. There are an average of five to a home, and an average of three readers to each paper, so in 35 homes you get over 100 readers. Remember this: a space two columns square costs but a penny for every 100 readers. No other advertising medium or method of advertising (To Be Continued.)

TOTAL ECLIPSE NOT SEEN HERE TODAY

Earth Was in the Shadow of the Moon Today—Was Observed in the South By Astronomers.

Janesville was not directly troubled by the eclipse of the sun today, although in some parts of the country it was a total eclipse and in some a partial one. The eclipse of the sun today, although it was not true in fact, in this latitude the sun will be just dipping beneath the horizon when it actually occurs.

"There is comparatively little interest taken in the eclipse," said Dr. Asaph Hall, chief astronomer at the United States Naval Observatory, at Washington, "for the reason that its salient features will not be visible within our borders. No expeditions have left the United States for purposes of observation. In this instance we will play second fiddle to the scientists of Europe."

England and Germany have sent out expeditions. As a totality, the eclipse will be observable only in the Pacific archipelagoes of the Tonga, Samoa and Ulukou, of which Vavau Island, of the first named group was selected by the English expeditions as the best point of observation.

On these islands there are many drawbacks to astronomical observations, and American astronomers are skeptical of the success of the expeditions. They say that the atmospheric conditions in the archipelagoes are such as to interfere greatly. At the present season the rain falls in that region on an average of seven out of twelve days. The task of the Germans will be easier, as they have a permanent meteorological station in Samoa, which is thoroughly equipped.

There are three English expeditions, one for the government, directed by the Rev. F. A. L. Corle of Stonyhurst Observatory; one by P. K. McClean of Cambridge Wells, and one by J. H. Washington of High Wycombe. The German expedition has gone to the Vavau Island, in the Samoa archipelago, and will attempt observations in the deepest darkness of the shadow. The observatory of Apla is on Upolu Island, but Vavau is on the line of totality. At Vavau, the totality begins at 2 hours 4 minutes and 50 seconds, ending at 2 hours 5 minutes and 50 seconds.

Vavau Island, which is the principal of the Vavau group, is a strange little gem of the Pacific, entirely of coral formation. It contains one of the most ancient and mysterious tribes to be found in the entire Malay section. A population of 5,000 is divided into numerous small villages, of which Savaii is the most suitable for observations. The English government expedition is there.

The Tonga archipelago affords other features of scientific interest besides the eclipse. An active, high volcano is on Tofua Island, and has a most picturesque form. A steep cliff coast line gives it a wild, strange beauty. Another observation point selected by another of the English expeditions is the Nassau Island of the Union archipelago, forty-five miles southeast of Vavau Island.

During the eclipse the sun's altitude will be no less than 55 degrees, and additional scientific interest is afforded by this fact. The duration of the eclipse was longer than that of any other recently recorded.

GRAVEL PIT SOLD BY A LOCAL FIRM

Negotiations for the sale of the gravel pit of the Janesville Sand and Gravel company on the Northwestern railroad near the Chicago Company's plant, in Bernard St. Ter Month of Waupun, have been concluded and the local company will begin moving its machinery to a new pit near the "Black" bridge in about a week. The sale includes the pit and buildings of the company. Mr. Ter Month is president of the Keystone Cement Block Manufacturing company at Waupun. The Waupun firm may move its plant here. It is planned to make cement blocks on a large scale by machinery, but the work will probably not commence before next year.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John Horn of This City, Married Fifty Years Ago Today Holding Reunion Today.

Fifty years of happy wedded life were celebrated today by Mr. and Mrs. John Horn at their home at 561 Chatham street. Surviving members of the family were assembled with them, and this evening an informal gathering of relatives and old friends will be held at the home. Mr. and Mrs. Horn were married April 27, 1861, in Pittsfield, Mass. They resided there until 1875, when they moved to Janesville, where they have since made their home. Mrs. Horn was born in 1812 in Dalton, Mass., where she lived with her parents until her marriage. Her maiden name was Emily A. Fairbairn. Mr. Horn is a native of Randolph, Kilbuck, Scotland, born November 5, 1826. He came to America to Massachusetts in 1851, meeting Mrs. Horn there. Eight children were born to them, five of whom are now living. They are: William of Barrington, Ill., a conductor on the Northwestern railroad; Emily, Mary and John Horn, who reside with their parents; and Mrs. George Wright, all of this city.

A Record Worth While. Mrs. Wyman, aged 70, of Pittsfield, Mass., recently broke all records in her pie-making career. She made 72 pies of nine different varieties, as follows: Custard, apple, coconut, prune, raisin, squash, chocolate, blueberry and lemon. Mrs. Wyman did the work alone and had it finished by noon.

Cultivate a Happy Nature. A happy nature is sometimes a gift, but it is also a grace, and can, therefore, be cultivated and acquired; and it should be a definite aim with those who are training a child. Housley.

FIVE SCHOOLS WILL ENTER THE CONTEST

Interesting Declamatory Contest Will Be Held at Stoughton Friday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Stoughton, Wis., April 27.—Five high schools will have representatives in the annual inter-scholastic declamatory contest to be held here Friday night at the city auditorium. Nine speakers will comprise the contestants, who will be divided into the declamatory and oratorical divisions, the former for girl speakers and the latter for boys. According to the selection of positions, Broadhead is most favored, it having secured best positions in both instances. Supt. of Schools H. C. Smith of Janesville, and Prof. L. S. Danney of Carroll College, Waukesha, are two of the three judges, who will act for both divisions.

The speakers and their selections in the order of appearance will be the following:

Declamatory Division. "The Boy"—Eleanore Blum, Stoughton. "The Adopted"—Lila Gifford, Edgerton. "My Church Contribution"—Leola Griekwolf, Whitewater. "How the Little Stakes Were Lost"—Ruth M. Young, Palmyra. "Gentlemen, the King!"—May Chase, Broadhead.

Oratorical Division. "Independence"—James Boutelle, Edgerton. "Spartans to the Gladiators"—Geo. Heinrich, Stoughton. "Washington"—Alvin Hagerston, Whitewater. "Patrick Henry's speech at the Virginia Convention, 1776"—Lauha Seorling, Broadhead.

These speakers are the choice of about fifty, who competed to represent their respective schools in the contest.

UNION LAD BADLY INJURED IN FALL

Eight Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Keegan Broke Left Limb in Peculiar Manner Yesterday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Union, April 27.—The eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Keegan of Union township, met with a serious accident into yesterday afternoon. He was following the outcrops of which was being used by the hired man to his home ground for planting, and in attempting to jump on the implement he lost his foothold and fell in front of the disks. The sharp round wheels ran over the left leg before the horses could be stopped, breaking it in two places between the knee and the ankle.

It seems that the man who was driving was unaware of the presence of young Keegan until he slipped and fell in front of the molar pulverizer. In addition to the break, which is a very serious one, the skin and flesh was badly cut and bruised. It is considered a miracle that the leg was not entirely severed.

Dr. Rankin of Brooklyn and Dr. C. M. Smith, Jr., of Evansville were called at once and made the little fellow as comfortable as possible. The break and bruise are very painful, however, and it will be a number of weeks before he will recover.

You will never have your feet if you take A. B. C. Family Van. It smooths out the lines that creep about one's face and lifts up the hollow places. 25c a package.

Classifying Him. "I'm just one of the plain people, sir," said the denigrator to the gifted orator. The latter looked him over. "It strikes me," he said, "that you are plain enough to be in a little class by yourself."

One Thing Yet to Learn. We have learned how to telegraph without wires and fly without gas bags, but the antidote for a common ordinary cold still mocks the tedious searchings of the human race. —St. Louis Republic.

Heartless Landlord. "I used to walk the floor worrying about how I was going to pay my landlord," said Mr. Tallock. "I hope you have got all that?" replied the optimist. "I had to. The landlord said that if I didn't stop worrying about the floor he'd raise the rent."

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, which I have great faith in. It cured him as well as the coughing and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Badger Drug Co.

Scottish Banks. The eight banks of Scotland are practically one bank. The managers of the principal banks, living in Edinburgh or Glasgow, meet frequently to fix the rate of discount on loans and the amount of interest to be allowed on deposits. The rate of interest charged by Scotch banks is on an average, one-half to one per cent. higher than the English rate.

Delicate Irony. Makart, the great Viennese painter, was tactful to a fault. It is related of him that once at a dinner party he sat next to Mrs. Gullmeyer for a whole hour without uttering a syllable, when his fair neighbor playfully nudged him with her elbow and said: "Come, Herr con Makart, let us change the conversation."

Do the Right. In doing aught which thou hast clearly discerned as right to do, seek never to avoid being seen in the doing of it, even though the multitude should be destined to form some wrong opinion concerning it.—Epictetus.

Pure Live Scranton Coal
THE HARD COAL THAT'S ALL COAL
All that looks like coal is not always coal. Slate, rock and minerals are black—but they don't produce heat. Instead they reduce the heating power of the coal with which they're mixed, and they form big, bothersome clinkers. Scranton Coal goes further than ordinary coal—gives a fifth more heating value—requires less attention—and makes less work because it is cleaner and richer in carbon.
